WE HAVE THE SAVIORS

Six hours after the emergency call.

Landing one mile from the target.

No signals in that forest... so I made our own.

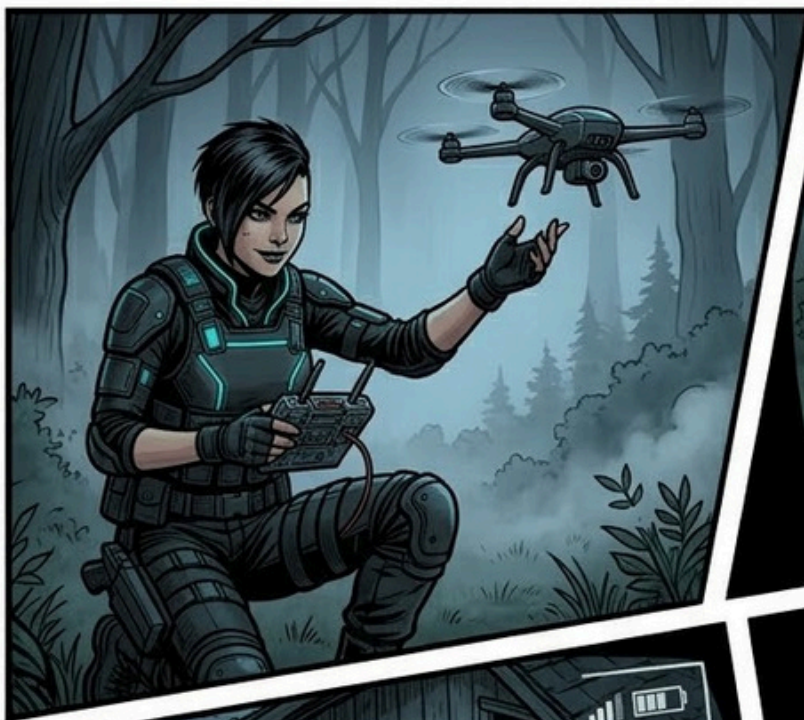

We go in silent.

That place
screams
trap.

Most dangerous ones do.

Silent Retrieval.

Silent Elim.

Second Down.

Move.

Movement
in the hall!

Intruders!

Contact!
Take them down!

BLAM!
BLAM!

Left side
clear!

SFX: RATATAT!

Ah—!

Han!
Suppress the right side!

SFX: BLAM
BLAM BLAM

Right side
handled!

Silence begins to fall.

Stay with me!
You're not going down here.

Whoa... that's not black-market gear.

Those aren't standard military rifles either.

This isn't military tech...

This is prototype-level engineering.

Biometric lock... fingerprint activated.

Take two samples.

I want intel running tests on these the moment we get back.

Silence

Oh... that's bad.

That's not just a bomb.

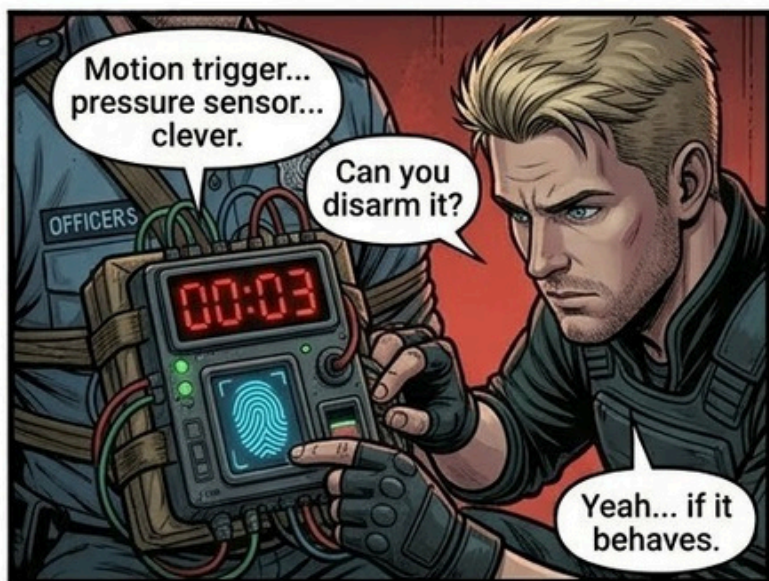

Everyone freeze.

If anyone moves him...

(short pause)

This whole floor becomes fireworks.

BLINK...
BLINK...

Brian! The
detonation signal
just triggered!

Move!
Everyone to the tree line!

That whole place was wired to blow!

And we just ran out of time!

Everyone still breathing?

Barely... but we're alive.

Impressive.

But the real game has only just begun.

Morning — 09:00 AM

That place...
it felt wrong from the start.

Someone expected us
to come.

beat.

And they were watching every move.
